Dear Members,

Happy New Year and welcome to 2023.

I hope you enjoyed all the end of year festivities and were able to spend some quality time with loved ones.

Wow, I can't believe that three quarters of this Club year have gone by already. But I loved every moment of it as your new Vice-President.

The highlight so far for me was the 55th Anniversary lunch.

Of course for an event like that we like to come together for celebration, conversation and good food. But above all, in one of the oldest traditions of the Club, we had an amazing raffle with beautiful high-end prices. The money collected came to the amazing amount of 1400 CHF that we handed over to the Oberägeri children's home Lütisbach who will use it to treat the kids to a special event this spring. They promised us to do something that without your contributions would not have been possible. So thank you for your generosity.

And the best part of the year is still to come.

Keep an eye on our calendar as we will organise another charity event this spring. It is going to be a bit different, but a lot of fun. I also have the honour of organising our yearly appreciation event to thank our Members who make our Club so wonderful by dedicating their spare time to work as a Board Member, an Interest Group Leader, Hostess and/or Committee Member.

We won't sit back for the last months of this Club year, we'll make sure we offer plenty of variety in activities for you to choose from and continue to enjoy the wonderful Club we form together.

With kind regards,

Émely Steegstra-Hendrix
Vice-President ZIWC

The day had finally come for us to take the long-awaited Escape to Piedmont wine trip. We started with a wonderful lunch at Anna Ghisolfi's restaurant in Tortona, nestled in the nave of a 1500-year-old deconsecrated church. The lunch was a true delight for all the senses, as the eatery presented dishes were accompanied by exquisite wines from the Massa winery, such as Derthona - a white wine made with an almost extinct local grape, brought back to life by Walter Massa, who we were lucky enough to meet. We also sampled "L'Avvelenata", a still red wine produced from Freisa grapes, the title of the wine named after a song written by the famous Italian songwriter Guccini, printed on the bottle.

Escape to Piedmont

We then had a stop in the Monferrato area, followed by a wine tour in Coppo Winery, UNESCO World Heritage site. We tasted a good traditional method sparkling rosé wine, "Clelia Coppo", plus Monteriolo Piemonte DOC Chardonnay and Pomorosso Nizza DOCG Nizza Riserva.

In the evening we reached the 'Langhe' area, a hilly zone in the lowest part of Piedmont, where we could admire breathtaking views of the Maritime Alps and the hills of Alba. We overnighted in Fontanafredda, a fairy-tale village founded by the first king of Italy for his love Rosa.

The next day, we followed a truffle hunter and her dog in search of buried treasure; our success was rewarded with plates of delicious food made with the 'Black Gold', accompanied by glasses of Barbera wine. After purchasing truffle honey, truffle oil, minced truffles, truffle butter, and safflower products off the shelves of Aloi Luca, we set out in discovery of more.

In the afternoon we visited the highly fashionable, ultra-modern winery 'L'Astemia Pentita' or 'The repentant teetotaller', where walls are covered with vine-leaf macro-patterns, located in Barolo Village and there we tried and tasted many aged Barolo wines.

We continued our journey with a guided tour of the cellars of 'Marchesi Barolo' to learn more history. We also visited the Vicoforte Sanctuary, a monumental church, where we climbed inside the world's largest elliptical dome and conquered the 200 steps in search of epic views around every corner. We had lunch in Mondovi' Piazza, reached by a funicular, where we walked in a beautiful garden called 'Parco del Belvedere'. We then reached Cascina Monsignore, where a charming couple poured us glasses of Dolcetto wine.

The last day, we had a wine tasting at "Tenuta Carretta", followed by a delicious dinner at Chef Flavio Costa's Michelin-starred restaurant. The trip concluded with a wine tasting at 'Borgogno Winery', with many types of Barolo produced by the winery and cultivated in different terroirs.

We returned to Fontanafredda each night to rest, sharing a nightcap with friends old and new. We toasted our trip with some Alta Langa - the sparkling white of the region - and were delighted to have had such a wonderful experience.

I can't wait to see where in Italy you might take us next! Lorella and Cristina, grazie mille!!!

ZIWC
Zug International Women's Club

It was raining outside as we arrived at the St. Michael Pfarrei in Zug this November evening but inside a warm welcome awaited us. Happy chatter filled the top floor, as Members old and new in festive attire mingled whilst enjoying reunions and meeting new Members, all basking in the warmth and friendliness. There was wine-tasting compliments of Paul Liversedge's wine company, and the atmosphere was simply buzzing.

ZIWC SEASONAL EVENING

When the door to the adjoining hall opened we were ushered into a fairy-tale setting, a huge buffet table, laden with dishes from Members' home countries was arranged in one corner. An abundance of wonderful food greeted us. The pièce de résistance was a huge turkey prepared by Tania Mobayed, ZIWC Annual Events chairwoman — it took pride of place. There were bowls of pumpkin soup, chicken, different kinds of potatoes and lots of delicious salads. The desserts included a proper English Christmas cake brought over by Catherine McCaskill, an American Pecan Pie, and mouth-watering cakes galore, all cooked & baked by 35 out of 55 guests attending. We were seated at tables beautifully decorated, arranged around a centre table, topped with a huge candle and a large cornucopia of spruce and pumpkins, grapes, and natural pickings from the woods. The setting was simply magical. Tania made a poignant speech, in which she explained why being 'thankful' was the theme of this year's event - that we have so much to be thankful for, living in a safe country like Switzerland in these difficult times.

Musical entertainment was provided by Members Stormy Berney and Andaleeb Lilley's sons, who gave us a wonderful medley of songs, starting with 'Hey Jude', and were later joined by Tania's daughter. It was a true joy to listen to them. As if that was not enough, we were then treated to a magnificent performance by the renowned Swiss harpist, Praxedis Hug-Rütti, that left us totally enthralled.

Saakje Daalhuijsen, Charity Chair, had collected an impressive collection of prizes from sponsors for the raffle which this year will benefit Hof Rickenbach. Vice President Émely Steegstra-Hendrix enlightened us about this particular charity that cares for sufferers of early onset dementia, and made us all glad that we had bought tickets for such a good cause. Thank you so much to the ZIWC Board and to the mastermind Tania and her team of tireless helpers: Susan Laudenbacher, Karin Resch, Valerie Gitter, Veerle Vandionant and Christine Blanshard, who all have worked so hard to create this wonderful and memorable event. What a treat for us all!

How one treats people defines the true entrepreneur

- Cristina Rocco shares thoughts on an powerful rebuttal of fashion businesswoman Elisabetta Franchi's comments
by Simone Terrani, CEO of VoipVoice

"This topic might seem Italian orientated (the world knows stylist Elisabetta Franchi made a number of sexist statements 'I just hire women over 40 or ugly since I want them 24/7 at my call') but I think it is a world topic about women and work. It is also a point to show that sometimes women are their own worst enemies while in this case a man had a totally different approach.

So in the rebuttal below many stereotypes are argued.

Last but not least, after this Elisabetta Franchi statement I just stopped buying her brand. Small steps count and maybe not many other women know about her thoughts. I can't just be treated as a cash cow by a woman who clearly shows disrespect for us as human beings." Cristina Rocco

Simone Terreni is the Managing Director of VoipVoice and CEO of Inside Factory and, as some will remember, is the entrepreneur - really, with a capital E - who last February hired a 27-year-old woman who revealed at the interview that she was pregnant.

Terreni, after Elisabetta Franchi's crazy declarations, metaphorically took pen and paper and gave her one of those lessons in style and entrepreneurship that we are rarely lucky enough to witness. To be read all the way through.

"Dear Elisabetta Franchi,

I was asked for an opinion on an interview of yours that stirred up a hornet's nest, and ended up all over social media.
A few weeks ago it was my turn to end up all over social networks and newspapers for a story that was the opposite of yours; a pregnant girl had come to me for an interview, timidly 'confessing' her pregnancy, and I hired her anyway.
I will not go into the merits of your discriminatory statements, which are self-explanatory.
I would point out to you that if you had actually behaved like that, it would simply be illegal.
However, one thing does not make sense to me.
You call yourself an entrepreneur.
But I do not feel like a colleague of yours. I really don't.
You are not an entrepreneur but a businesswoman, used to having people at your service 24 hours a day.
An entrepreneur, on the other hand, is at the service of her employees and not vice versa.
An entrepreneur hires people based on skills and competences and not on gender or age.
An entrepreneur knows how to plan and is not afraid of losing an employee for a few months.
An entrepreneur creates a team of people, not a pyramid company.
An entrepreneur is not afraid of pregnancy but is happy if, with her company, she helps young mothers and fathers to give birth to human beings.
Because a child, I repeat, can never be a problem.

Cordially,
Simone Terreni"

Your local library

a treasure trove waiting to be explored!

As the bright, colourful days of autumn give way to dark, gloomy days of winter, it's time to hunker down with a book. Canton Zug is fortunate to have a library in every municipality and you can belong to more than one, free of charge. You can even have media delivered to your home for a delivery fee (good if you are housebound because of illness or snow!).

However, libraries don't only house books, they also have media of every kind, including online media. You can also make requests yourself for a particular book to be purchased for example, and you can reserve books high in demand. Using the example of the library in Zug, here are some of the things you can expect to find:

- Books, of course, but also in languages other than German. The ZIWC has donated many English books in the past to the various Canton Zug libraries
- DVDs of the latest films and sometimes even series CDs
- Newspapers and magazines of all kinds, including language-learning publications such as Spotlight (English), Écoutes (French), Adesso (Italian), together with CDs
- You can borrow e-book readers and digital devices, read English, French and Spanish media online, stream films and documentaries and so much more.

Libraries are aiming to become more 'Begegnungsorte', places where people can meet and interact. Here are some examples of events for all ages currently on offer at Zug library:

- Talks in English e.g. recent examples include; The Inbuilt Dangers of Democracy; The Lessons of History. Historian Cristian Violatti always attracts interested audiences (including me) to these fascinating lectures, which are illustrated with slides.
- Conversation Clubs: German (online), English, French, Spanish and an English Book Reading Circle
- Activities and stories for children in different languages including German, French, English, Spanish, Russian, Ukrainian, Chinese and Tamil.
- A variety of workshops for all ages and interests e.g. Digi (3D printer and cutting plotter); Minecraft; talks by various external organisations for example on budgeting and dealing with money, the dangers of the Internet, the positive aspects for children of gaming, cyberbullying.

Of course, many of these activities are in German but that would be a chance to practise and learn and all of them are free (unless you have to pay for materials). There is also a music library in Zug where you can borrow books, not just CDs but also scores and notes. Many municipalities have a toy library or 'Ludothek' where you can borrow toys and games.

So, head down and read the international newspapers and magazines while enjoying a coffee in a cosy corner and see what your local library has to offer. If you haven't got your own computer, you might be able to use one at your library!

This cosy cafe is open for a friendly chat or just a coffee. The volunteer staff are hosts. Many groups meet here, too, including: a parent/toddler group, a storytelling group, dementia support group offering music and cakes.

They are happy to serve you their offering of drinks, cakes and snacks.
You are welcome to picnic, too. Bring your own food and enjoy the space, inside or out.

But what about the social counselling corner? The cafe is an ecumenical project of the Catholic Church, the Reformation Church and the CityKircheZug. During opening hours, a pastor is regularly available for a free consultation.

MANAGING THE ZIWC Club Archives

In 2006 ZIWC Archive began to take shape. When we wanted to invite the past presidents for the ZIWC 40th Anniversary celebration it was a real 'puzzle' to track them down, but with the help of several past president Club Members I could find out 75% of the addresses, spread all over the world! Loads of emails were written back and forward. From this moment on my interest to make the archive complete started. In agreement with the Board I decided that I wanted to complete that 'puzzle' and started to find out where all kinds of club things were stored, which was and still is great fun to do!

To keep track of our past presidents file I regularly send them an update list and ask them to inform me if there are any changes.

Since ZIWC was founded in 1967, photos of meetings and activities were created and soon the first photo albums needed a storage place. After a few years it became tradition that one of the duties of the Vice President was to collect all the event photos, and interesting photo albums full of treasures with special Club memories were created. Until about 2003-2004 we had photo albums, then the digital age started and with that less work for the Vice President. (Although she still had enough jobs to do!)

There are two locations in Zug where our Club documents are stored. Our photo albums, the older marketing material and a copy of all Newsletters and Membership Directories are in the Zug Library; the 'Staatsarchiv des Kantons Zug' —or Canton Zug archive— gets a copy of our Newsletters (and now Magazine), Membership Directory and the year's accounts every year. But our archive has more treasures, our presidents used a Chairwoman's hammer, we still have the flag-banner with our old logo, our scarf with the club logo and flyers for example. I keep an overview of what is stored and where.

It is too time-consuming to make all archive material and photobooks digital, that's why I started to pick out the highlights of every Club year: I make photos of the old photo album pages, special invites for gala events, some pictures of the many fashion shows that have been organised over the years, a few Board-meeting minutes, the Special Projects Committee activities, a Presidents Year report, every years Board Members with photos, minutes of the AGMs over the years, letters from other local clubs and authorities etc. etc… A bit of everything! A few times a year I spend an afternoon in the library to repair the books (sello tape and glue dissolve after so many years).

Those of you who attended the 55th Anniversary Lunch have seen that we also have used those old pictures to make a special memories slideshow, every year showcases a few highlights. We used the old material in combination with modern computer techniques!

ENGEL&VÖLKERS

Women in Action
Teaching English as Volunteers

Our Club is run by many talented volunteers but lots of our Members volunteer outside the Club in various organisations, which is the Swiss way of getting to know people easily.

Following a call in Spring by the Interkultureller Dialog to find English teachers for the influx of Ukrainian refugees, mostly well-qualified women, three of our Members stepped up: Jane Chamberlain, Shirley Saxton and Julie Small.

The teachers had various backgrounds and levels of experience but shared enthusiasm in the face of various levels of ability within their teaching groups, some Ukrainian women having no English at all but being keen to learn. One of the volunteers emphasised how rewarding the experience was: you receive far more than you give. The teachers all felt that, despite the challenges, not least respecting the difficulty of interacting with traumatised women and in one case complete lack of experience in teaching, the students had made amazing progress in a short time and the teachers were able to 'do their bit' in a meaningful way. The idea of 'giving back' to society seems to have become a bit old-fashioned, commented one teacher, but she felt it was a privilege to be able to do so.

As an experienced teacher of adults myself, I can only admire these ladies for accepting the challenge and contributing to helping the Ukrainian women integrate. After all, one of the main aims of our Club is to help women of all backgrounds integrate into our little part of the world.

All the women who help run our Club do a wonderful job and there are many more opportunities to volunteer in our society. However, volunteering is a social skill and looks good on your CV and your citizenship application. You can get a certificate detailing your voluntary work by applying to Benevol - see https://dossier-freiwillig-engagiert.ch/worum-geht-es#freiwillige. You'll also find opportunities to volunteer locally here: https://benevolzug.ch/

Don't let lack of German knowledge put you off: this is Zug, so there will always be someone who speaks English in these organisations.

Bienvenue à Strasbourg,
La Capitale de Noel

On December 5, 15 excited ladies from ZIWC took the SBB to experience the unique magic of this finest Alsatian Christkindelmarik, dating back as far as 1570 and boasting the oldest Christmas market in France!

We eagerly took photos against the stunning backdrop of the Great Christmas Tree decked in twinkling lights. We enjoyed roast chestnuts, mulled wine and gazed in sheer wonder at the beautifully decorated assorted stalls and Strasbourg's fine and elegant architecture, all seasonally presented like a fairytale. The entire historic town centre was buzzing with a vintage 'days gone by' feeling. And in its heart stood the imposing sandstone Cathedral Notre Dame, mystically lit by candlelight, boasting magnificent tapestries, the famous rose stained window and astronomical clock. Some of the hiking group gals even went up onto the cathedral rooftop, climbing the 322 steps to be rewarded by jaw-dropping views of the city!

Filled with tradition the market is a sheer feast for the senses, the smell of the freshly baked bredele cakes, the taste of the delicious Alsatian specialities and the eyes dazzled by sophisticated Christmas illuminations. Each building, every shop is dressed in finery and transformed into a winter wonderland and the streets are festooned in curtains of twinkling lights, reminiscent of a huge open air theatre. Eagerly participating in this Christmas spectacular, indulging in local speciality Flammkuchen and Glühwein, or dining at the famous restaurant Maison Kammerzell—a house steeped in ancient tradition and even frequented by His Holiness, the Pope—an enthusiastic group of expats memorably shared in the magic of Christmas in Strasbourg, befittingly called "La Capitale de Noël"!

Merci beaucoup to ZIWC and to Veerle for so competently guiding us!

Fitness

www.xmv-fitness.ch info@xmv-fitness.ch 076 703 73 02

About me

Most of my life I was very active. As a kid till early adulthood, I practiced speedskating with many training hours per week. After moving to Switzerland, I changed to cross-country skiing, jogging, skiing and snowboarding. Unfortunately, with two kids and a job, my priorities changed. At the beginning of 2020, I paid the price for this neglect with a burn-out. With exercise a spart of my treatment, I realized how important exercise is to me. So important that I decided to share the joy of fitness with others by making it my job and founding XMV-fitness.

Why exercise?

We all know that exercise is good for your physical and mental health. Unfortunately, many of us find it difficult to find the time or motivation to fit it into our busy schedules. With XMV-fitness, I offer StreetFit close to you in group training at fixed times, or personal training accustomed to your busy schedule.

What is StreetFit?

StreetFit is a full-body outdoor training. The trainingsessions are a combination of cardio and strength training where we use our surroundings as our fitnesscentre. Training with bodyweight reduces the chance of injury and just being outside helps our mental health. All exercises can be adjusted to your level of fitness. Therefore, the training is accessable for most people. I am looking forward to offering StreetFit as part of the ZIWC-programm.

Nutrition

With nutrition we can positively influence our health and fitness. The right nutrition depends on your goal. Losing weight, buildung muscle, increasing your endurance or health requires specific nutrients. I would love to guide you to better health and support you in your personal nutritional needs.

Where?

Because we don't use specific equipment, I offer StreetFit there, where my clients are. Part of the feature is, that we can do the training close to where you live or work. I am expending my offers, I will start a new group when I have three participants.

GYMNASIUM ST. KLEMENS

St Klemens- A private Gymnasium in Ebikon offering various levels of 'gymi' education.
UNTERGYMNASIUM (lower gymnasium)

WHAT'S NEXT FOR YOU AFTER PRIMARY SCHOOL?

In two years, the Untergymnasium St. Klemens, prepares you for the subsequent Kurzzeitgymnasium (reduced-term gymnasium). You will be guaranteed a place in our four-year Kurzzeitgymnasium course.

Feel right at home at our small, close-knit school, where we all know each other. At the "Klemi", we all eat lunch together, as casual conversations over lunch are just as important to us as a strong sense of being part of the school community. The "Klemi" campus is situated directly on the bank of the Rotsee, where, among the trees, you will find the peace and quiet you need for studying and taking a well-deserved break. Our holistic approach to education includes the arts and sport. In our day school programme "Tagesschule PLUS", you will find the support you need to flourish and improve your learning strategies. Thanks to the individual assistance provided by our professional team, you will learn to study in an independent and autonomous manner.

KURZZEITGYMNASIUM (shorter-term gymnasium)

WHAT'S NEXT FOR YOU AFTER SEKUNDARSCHULE (secondary school) OR UNTERGYMNASIUM (lower gymnasium)?
In the Kurzzeitgymnasium, we will help you acquire the federally recognised Matura in four years. This will open up several exciting prospects for you: it is your ticket to universities and Fachhochschulen both here and abroad.

At the "Klemi" you can expect to find a close-knit and inspiring atmosphere that is ideal for studying. We will help you develop your personality and support you on your way with targeted learning strategies. You will acquire the tools you need to thrive and create a successful future for yourself. We also want to help you learn for life outside our school's curriculum. You can look forward to those extracurricular activities so typical for the "Klemi" that include cultural outings and sports.

TAGESSCHULE PLUS
YOUR PERSONAL SUPPORT FOR STUDYING

In our "Tagesschule PLUS" day school programme, you will have your own personal space for work in a single, double or triple room. Our professional team will support you with your homework and your exam preparation by introducing you to a variety of learning strategies. Here you will receive all the individual assistance you need.

In our "Tagesschule PLUS" programme, you will not only be introduced to new learning strategies by our team but will also find the ideal atmosphere for studying. Our day school students benefit from our excellent facilities (various rooms for studying with others, a generous kitchen and a recreation room, a room for meditation, a gym, a music studio, etc.). Our day school is a place for living. As part of our day school community, you will spend lots of time with your peers while you live and learn together. Expect to make new friends, also from other classes and age groups, that may well last a lifetime.

FLAT SHARE FOR STUDENTS
YOUR SECOND HOME

In our flat share, you and other students will live together like a family. You will occupy your own room on our school campus. All rooms have their own bathroom, and some even have a view of the Rotsee.

In the evening, once the day school's schedule is over, you are free to make the most of our fantastic facilities. The generous shared kitchen is the perfect place to cook and have interesting conversations with other students. You can also use our small gym to work out. Perhaps you want to make some music in the studio or just go up to the rooftop terrace and relax. Our flatshare is for students who are already very independent and responsible and wish to further improve these skills.

If you would like to learn more about the "Klemi" or would like to take a look at our school, then visit our homepage or get in touch by writing us an e-mail or giving us a call.

Escape to the Christmas Market in Einsiedeln

Twelve lovely ladies accompanied by myself set off in the pouring rain by coach to the Christmas Market in Einsiedeln, the road trip went over the very foggy Raten down to Einsiedeln. This was the first evening of the Market so the stallholders had just finished setting up. As it was raining so hard we made our way to the centre to visit the very impressive Monastery and the Black Madonna which stands inside The Holy Chapel. Some ladies decided to stay on for the service and others made their way back to the Market, then the rain stopped and we were able to enjoy the many beautifully decorated stands selling all sorts of Christmassy and hand-made products. Of course there was also Glühwein on offer which we obviously, in the spirit of things, had to try. All in all a very pleasant excursion and a good time was had by all!

Susan Laudenbacher

Charity Donation

A huge thank you from Lütisbach Kinder- & Jugendheim in Oberägeri to the Club, but above all to all the ladies who so generously bought raffle tickets during the Anniversary Lunch in September.

They had not expected this amount (1400 CHF) and were absolutely over the moon.

The money will be spent on a special outing with the children that would normally be absolutely beyond their budget.

Sami Chlaus Event

The hard work of the ZIWC team including Veerle, Karin and Susan was evident on Tuesday morning from the moment of arrival at the Parkhotel. Émely and Lilia were at work at the reception table as the queue of ladies grew, numbering 65 in total. When Saakje emerged from the closed dining room I knew that she had been preparing the raffle gifts and decorations as is her forte. During the event the dedication of the team was evident with the highlight being the surprise visit from Samichlaus and Schmutzli (IMCZ members!), organised by Susan. Thank you to Tania and the rest of the annual events team for helping us get into the holiday spirit with a lovely red-themed breakfast, for this most simple, festive and favourite event of the year.
