

AUDITORS POLICY

Updated and approved on 23.08.23

Overall, the role of auditors in a non-profit organisation is to provide an independent and objective assessment of the organisation's financial operations, aiming to enhance accountability, transparency and the organisation's overall financial integrity.

1. Financial Examination: The Auditors review the organisation's financial records, statements, and transactions to ensure accuracy, transparency, and adherence to accounting standards.
The Auditors' remit does not include the allocation of funds within the AGM approved budget.
2. Internal Control Evaluation: Auditors assess the effectiveness of the non-profit's internal controls for financial management and safeguarding of assets.
3. Financial Statement Audit: The Auditors examine the non-profit's financial statements, including the balance sheet, income statement and cash flow statement. This helps ensure that the financial information presented accurately reflects the organisation's financial position.
4. Reporting and Recommendations: Upon completing the audit, the Auditors prepare a report detailing their findings, which may include grave financial irregularities and/or concerns, or recommendations on applicable tax regulation. This report is shared with the Board according to the following timeline.

Time line
